Archibald Primrose, 5th Earl of Rosebery who developed a keen interest in football and was an early patron of the sport. In 1882 he donated the Rosebery Charity Cup, to be competed for by clubs under the jurisdiction of the Edinburgh, later the East of Scotland FA. The competition lasted over 60 years and raised thousands of pounds for charities in the Edinburgh area. He also donated the trophy for the Linlithgowshire Cup, which was colloquially known as the Rosebery Cup.
